CHAIRMAN’S MESSAGE

The National Gallery of Victoria’s position as a global leader has been underpinned by the generosity of the philanthropic community for more than 160 years. In 2022–23, it was this generosity that enabled the NGV to reach many ambitious goals, across building the NGV Collection, delivering innovative programs and events, and producing ambitious exhibitions.

The NGV continues to work towards the landmark building project, The Fox: NGV Contemporary. Once open, it will be the nation’s largest gallery dedicated to contemporary art and design and will become a global beacon for tourism. Over the past twelve months, the NGV has continued to celebrate the support of the community, including major donations from Paula Fox AO, Lindsay Fox AC and their family, and The Ian Potter Foundation, alongside the Victorian Government’s commitment to this once-in-a-generation project.

Over the past year, the NGV was the recipient of significant gifts from the philanthropic community, including a number of gifts valued at more than $1 million. I acknowledge Krystyna Campbell-Pretty AM and Family’s involvement across countless strategic Gallery initiatives and NGV Collection areas, ranging from First Nations Art, International Art, Fashion and Textiles, Decorative Arts, Antiquities, Prints and Drawings, Photography, and the School Support Program. Also the legacy of Sam and Nina Narodowski for the establishment of an endowed fund, supporting vital work in audience engagement. I recognise the Felton Bequest, July Cao, Barry Janes and Paul Cross, Loti and Victor Smorgon Fund, the NGVWA and Neville and Diana Bertalli for their extraordinarily generous gifts towards NGV Triennial 2023.

Further significant gifts received during the year valued at more than $500,000 were received from the late Gordon Moffatt AM and the Estate of Judith Gardiner, along with the NGVWA, which collectively enabled the Gallery to acquire works of art for the NGV Collection.

I recognise the generosity of those who contributed donations valued at more than $100,000, including John Adams and Cecily Adams, Orthwein Foundation, Joe White Bequest, Barry Janes and Paul Cross, Jo Horgan AM and Peter Wetenhall, Vivienne Fried, Suzette Chapple Bequest, Peter Clemenger AO, Max Smith Bequest, Tapestry Foundation of Australia, The Hugh D. T. Williamson Foundation, Andrew Xue, Michael Tong and Emily Tong, Neville Bertalli and Diana Bertalli, Carol Sisson, Mavourneen Cowen, James Farmer and Rutti Loh, Gidleigh Foundation, Jane Hansen AO and Paul Little AO, Metal Manufactures Limited, and the Orloff Family.

On behalf of the NGV Foundation Board, I extend my thanks to the NGV Executive Management, led by Director Tony Ellwood AM, and recognise the role of my fellow Foundation Board Members who maintain their dedication and commitment to the NGV.

As one of the most transformative projects for Australia's cultural landscape, The Fox: NGV Contemporary will showcase world-leading contemporary art and design, while creating an accessible space that will cement its place in the lives of generations of Australians.

Over the past year, the NGV has continued to achieve many milestones towards this iconic project. This includes presenting The Fox: NGV Contemporary Design Competition; a celebratory exhibition of the visionary design, work and creativity of the teams who took part in the competition, along with major advancements in the new Gallery's design.

Alongside significant funding from the Victorian Government as part of the reimagining of Melbourne's arts and cultural precinct, the NGV has continued to work with our philanthropic community and warmly thanks all of our generous donors who have contributed to this once-in-a-generation project. The NGV sincerely thanks Paula Fox AO, Lindsay Fox AC and the Fox family for supporting this remarkable moment in history.

The Fox family's generosity is joined by incredible donations and pledged commitments received during the period from The Ian Potter Foundation, Dr Carol Colburn Grigor via Metal Manufactures, Sam & Nina Narodowski, Rosie Lew AM, Maureen Wheeler AO and Tony Wheeler AO, the late Gordon Moffatt AM & family, Michael Tong and Emily Tong, Loris Orthwein, James Farmer and Rutti Loh and Charles Goode AC and Cornelia Goode.

The new Gallery is expected to greatly enhance cultural tourism each year, while this important infrastructure project will continue to create thousands of jobs and provide an economic boost for the city. Once open, The Fox: NGV Contemporary is estimated to attract millions of additional visitors annually, matching the attendance of major museums worldwide and will be home to the largest collection of Contemporary Art and Design in the country.

2023 NGV ANNUAL APPEAL

For the 2023 NGV Annual Appeal, the NGV had the unique opportunity to acquire a striking work by legendary master of Surrealism, Salvador Dalí, with his Mae West Lips Sofa, 1937–38.

The addition of this incredible expression of Surrealism has become the largest and most important Surrealist sculpture in the NGV Collection, and builds upon our holdings of sculptures by André Masson, Marcel Jean and Man Ray.

Inspired by Salvador Dalí’s 1935 watercolour, Mae West’s Face Which May be Used as a Surrealist Apartment, British arts patron Edward James commissioned a three-dimensional version of the divan featured in Dalí’s watercolour, becoming the Mae West Lips Sofa.

As one of only five of its kind in existence, and the final remaining in a private collection, the addition of this acquisition through the generous support of our philanthropic community firmly positions the NGV’s collection of Surrealist art as one of the most significant in the country.

The NGV sincerely thanks all supporters who have made gifts to help secure this significant work, including leadership gifts from Paula Fox AO and Fox Family Foundation, Mavourneen Cowen, Tim Fairfax AC and Gina Fairfax AC, The Betsy & Ollie Polasek Endowment, King Family Foundation, John Fast and Jenny Fast and Ralph Ward-Ambler AM and Barbara Ward-Ambler.

2023 REMBRANDT APPEAL

With the help of the philanthropic community, in 2023 the NGV was delighted to acquire Abraham Francen, Apothecary, c. 1657 through the 2023 Rembrandt Appeal. As one of a small group of prints made by Rembrandt in the late 1650s, the work represents the culmination of his portraiture in the etching medium and is unsurpassed in its thematic and technical complexity.

The NGV holds a significant Rembrandt Harmensz. van Rijn collection that has been assembled over more than 130 years, however, the last time a work was purchased for the Gallery was more than twenty years ago, and there are important aspects of the artist's development as an etcher that were not yet represented in our Collection.

Abraham Francen, Apothecary represents a major acquisition to our collection of Rembrandt works, as the NGV holds only three of the eight portraits in lifetime impressions. This rare etching is a superb example of the artist's powerful late style and is a highly desirable addition to the NGV's selection of Rembrandt holdings.

The 2023 Rembrandt Appeal was warmly received by supporters, and the Gallery gratefully thanks those who have enabled the NGV to acquire this work for the NGV Collection, including leadership gifts from David Tunick, Barry Janes and Paul Cross, Ken Harrison AM and Jill Harrison OAM, Neil Young KC and Suzanne Kirkham.

2022 SUMMER APPEAL

In Summer 2022–23, the NGV was pleased to commission and acquire Troy Emery’s Mountain climber, 2022. Standing at over three metres, Mountain climber is Emery’s most ambitious work to date, and his first major commission by an Australian institution.

The NGV sincerely thanks our dedicated philanthropic community who supported the acquisition of this vibrant textile sculpture, which featured as a part of the Melbourne Now 2023 exhibition on display at The Ian Potter Centre: NGV Australia from March to August 2023.

The larger-than-life mountain lion sculpture depicting a feline creature perched atop a gallery plinth, is striking in scale and covered in tens of thousands of coloured fake fur pom-poms. Mountain climber is a continuation of Emery’s work exploring humankind’s relationship with animals and their historical representations in museums and in taxidermied form, and will continue to encourage conversation on critical topics facing us today.

This exuberant textile sculpture greatly enhances the NGV Collection, and we warmly thank all supporters who assisted in helping to secure this ambitious work, including significant gifts from Tapestry Foundation of Australia, Dr Brett Archer, Alan Roberts & family, John Rush KC & Sandra Rush and Janet Whiting AM, Phil Lukies & Family.

SUPPORTED PROJECTS

NGV KIDS AND TEENS

In 2022–23, the NGV was pleased to present an engaging and informative range of exhibitions, programs and events that introduced children and teen audiences to several locally and internationally renowned artists, while also empowering them to experience art in new and creative ways.

The NGV hosted young visitors through recent NGV Kids exhibitions, and we warmly thank the City of Melbourne and Spencer Ko for their generous support of Julian Opie: Studio for Kids, which welcomed more than 58,300 visitors and encouraged children to harness their creativity through virtual activities. Additionally, Up Down and All Around: Daniel Emma for Kids, was enjoyed by 65,000 kids and encouraged our young visitors to find inspiration from everyday objects.

The NGV Kids Summer Festival also returned in January 2023, featuring nine days of free tailored activities and dedicated programming for children and families. This included artist-led workshops, engaging performances and interactive programs, such as Drop-by Drawing and Under 5s creative learning sessions. In 2023, the NGV was pleased to welcome more than 13,000 children to the Kids Summer Festival, and we sincerely thank the City of Melbourne for their ongoing support of the Kids Summer Festival. Additionally, the NGV hosted NGV Kids on Tour, which partnered with over 130 regional and metropolitan venues across Victoria, and offered close to 7,000 children and families the opportunity to engage with the Gallery through free art activities and workshops, when this may not always be readily accessible within their communities.

Throughout 2022–23, the NGV Teens Program connected with more than 3,600 teens. This included an iteration of the Teen Art Party that celebrated the NGV’s summer exhibition Alexander McQueen: Mind, Mythos, Muse, the Minus18 Queer Formal, a new series of Drop-by and Make programs, as well as a full program for the NGV Teens Council. The NGV warmly thanks Beatrice Moignard, The Betsy and Ollie Polasek Endowment, The JTM Foundation and Alex and Brady Scanlon, for their dedicated support of the NGV Teens Program.

SCHOOLS ACCESS

With the extraordinary support of Learning Patron Krystyna Campbell-Pretty AM and Family, the NGV Schools Support Program has continued to provide crucial educational resources and learning opportunities for students to visit and learn at the Gallery, who may not otherwise have the opportunity to do so.

Throughout 2022–23, the NGV welcomed thousands of students and teachers as a part of the NGV Schools Support Program. To coincide with the 2022 Melbourne Winter Masterpieces® exhibition The Picasso Century, more than 1010 students and teachers from twenty-seven schools took part in the Schools Support Program at the NGV, with over half of these participating schools attending from regional areas.

Over the summer, the Schools Support Program continued to attract more than 850 participants in conjunction with the blockbuster exhibition Alexander McQueen: Mind, Mythos, Muse, with almost forty percent of the twenty-six participating schools based in regional Victoria. In 2023, the NGV Schools Support Program coincided with Melbourne Winter Masterpieces® exhibition: Pierre Bonnard: Designed by India Mahdavi, engaging schools from across metropolitan and regional Victoria throughout the entire exhibition period.

The NGV thanks Krystyna Campbell-Pretty AM and Family for their leadership support of the NGV Schools Support Program, as we recognise the thousands of students that this program has had a remarkable impact on over the past decade.

CONSERVATION

As a leader in the field of art conservation, the NGV is proud to host the largest and longest running Conservation department of any Australian museum. In 2022–23, the NGV was delighted to undertake a number of substantial conservation projects, guided by the wonderful support of our philanthropic community.

Through the generous funding from the Bank of America Art Conservation Project, the department appointed a Conservator of Indigenous Art who has undertaken conservation treatment of important Western Desert works from the NGV Collection, produced in the 1970s and 1980s by the Papunya and Lajamanu communities. The project utilises a holistic preservation strategy, which draws upon the values and guidance of the Lajamanu and Papunya peoples, in addition to the physical needs of the works to be safely stored and displayed.

With the support of the Gidleigh Foundation, the department appointed an Objects Fellow specialising in decorative arts conservation – the only Fellowship of its kind in Australia. This fellowship focuses on the treatment of decorative arts works in the NGV Collection, and addresses the skills shortage for decorative arts care across the regional gallery network through outreach programs.

In 2022–23 the Conservation department continued to support the Public Galleries Association of Victoria (PGAV) by hosting two onsite professional development workshops for members, highlighting the industry skill of condition reporting loaned items. These workshops provided an opportunity for staff of regional and small metropolitan galleries to develop or enhance specialist skills, create peer-to-peer learning and expand professional networks.

The NGV Conservation department also initiated a Digitisation Project in partnership with the NGV Registration department, focusing on migrating all works on magnetic tape to current digital formats before the year 2025, with more than a third already completed. This project has been made possible with the generous funding from Supporters of Conservation and will ensure this collection of early video works spanning the early 1970s to the early 2000s are kept in perpetuity and will remain accessible to the public.

Notable conservation treatments in 2022–23 include James Tissot's An interesting story, c. 1872, Henry Moore's Draped seated woman, c. 1872, Rafael Lozano-Hemmer's Please empty your pockets, 2010, and Portrait of Rembrandt by the Studio of Rembrandt – an oil painting acquired in 1932 whose attribution was doubted by scholars until conservation research found two key pieces of evidence that tied the painting to Rembrandt's studio.

Through the NGV Centre for Frames Research, reproduction frames were completed for Louis Buvelot's at Point Nepean, 1875, Marie-Victoire Lemoine's Portrait of Madame Leclerc, c. 1798–99, based on a Directoire-style frame from the late eighteenth century, and Annie L. Swynnerton's The lady in white, 1878, based on a Watts-style frame from the 1880s.

The NGV warmly thank our Supporters of Conservation, dedicated to supporting the remarkable work undertaken by the NGV Conservation department, including Bank of America, the Gidleigh Foundation, Susan Morgan OAM, Krystyna Campbell-Pretty AM & Family, The Betsy & Ollie Polasek Endowment, Marquill Foundation, Cecilie Hall, Christine Grenda and Geoff Grenda, Lynton Daehli, Thomas Bridge, Howard Brown and Jenny Brown, Kay Rodda, as well as those who generously donated anonymously.

CLEMENGER GRANTS

Thanks to the Clemenger Grant program, 14 NGV staff members were awarded opportunities to regions including the United States, Canada, Europe and Scandinavia. The grant has allowed the recipients to engage with peers and broaden their knowledge base, stay abreast of industry trends, best practices and emerging technologies, exchange ideas and gain fresh insights into Gallery management.

Such grants contribute greatly to personal development, while boosting the overall vitality and dynamism of cultural institutions by fostering a culture of continuous learning and innovation. Through exposure to different artistic communities and institutional models, grant recipients return with valuable experiences and strengthen connections with their international counterparts. Ultimately this generous grant has provided staff individual growth as well as enhanced the capacity of the NGV to be a leader in institutional practices. We sincerely thank Peter Clemenger AO for his dedication and vision behind this innovative grant.

CONTEMPORARY DESIGN AND ARCHITECTURE

The NGV’s Department of Contemporary Design and Architecture continued to make a significant impact on the life of the Gallery in 2022–23. With the generous support of The Hugh D. T. Williamson Foundation, the department continued to collect and present thought-provoking contemporary design and architecture, alongside a dedicated and ambitious collection strategy and an extensive program of engagement.

Throughout the year, the NGV highlighted contemporary design and architecture through a thoughtfully developed program of events, exhibitions and programs. As Australia’s leading design event, Melbourne Design Week’s annual eleven-day program continued to grow in scope and scale in 2023, from presenting just under 100 programs in the first iteration in 2017 to more than 350 this year. Melbourne Design Week is built on the enthusiastic engagement and participation of the design sector and the public, attracting over 70,000 people in 2023, with the curation of the program led by the NGV Department of Contemporary Design and Architecture.

In 2022–23, the NGV was also pleased to present the 2022 Architecture Commission, Temple of Boom, an evocative reimagining of the Parthenon on the Acropolis in Athens designed by architect Adam Newman, and lead designer and technical director Kelvin Tsang. Melbourne Now also returned in 2023 as a vast exhibition of contemporary art and design, welcoming more than 433,000 attendees during its display, and celebrating Melbourne’s diverse and creative communities.

These programs provided local and international designers with an important platform, creating possibilities for the community to connect and engage with important knowledge and new aspects of globally renowned contemporary design. Each initiative aimed to challenge the way participants perceive art and design, while broadening the understanding of what contemporary art and design can be.

The NGV warmly thanks The Hugh D. T. Williamson Foundation for their generous support of the Department of Contemporary Design and Architecture over the past decade. Their ongoing advocacy and commitment to the development of Australia’s cultural landscape has enabled a number of incredible outcomes during this period, and we look forward to working together on other exciting opportunities in the future.

ANNUAL GIVING

The NGV’s Annual Giving program is one of the foundations of philanthropy at the Gallery. By making an annual donation towards a specific aspect of the NGV Collection or a dedicated fundraising appeal, the Gallery is able to continue to grow and enhance important areas of focus within the Collection, conduct internationally recognised research, and deliver programs and initiatives for the whole community to enjoy now and into the future. In return, Annual Giving supporters join a vibrant and diverse group of Gallery enthusiasts, who participate in an engaging and dynamic calendar of events designed to deepen their connection to the NGV.

During the 2022–23 period, Annual Giving supporters continued to make significant acquisitions across a range of Collection areas. A highlight of the year was the return of Melbourne Now to The Ian Potter Centre: NGV Australia for the second iteration of this much-loved exhibition, showcasing the very best of Victorian art and design. Drawing upon support from multiple collection areas, a legacy of the exhibition has been the opportunity for featured works to enter the NGV Collection. This includes two works on canvas by artist Heidi Yardley, as well as a piece by artist and potter James Lemon, both acquired by the Supporters of Contemporary Art.

Within Melbourne Now, jewellery pieces including Ten Combs, 2022, a collaborative work between designer Danielle Brustman and London-based Jonathan Ellery, as well as Laura Deakin’s necklace Mygration #14, 2020, were acquired by the Supporters of Contemporary Design and Architecture. Supporters of Fashion and Textiles championed a variety of Melbourne-based designers and fashion houses, including Ngali, a sustainable womenswear label that collaborates with First Nations artists to transpose artworks onto premium-quality clothing and collectables, along with works from Misha Hollenback and Shauna Toohey, Arnsdorf, Blair Archibald, Chris Ran Lin, Nixi Killick, Strateas Carlucci and Verner.

Print Portfolio, featured in Melbourne Now, comprised of twelve new prints commissioned especially for the exhibition. Through the portfolio, twelve established and emerging artists explored a range of techniques, with the diversity of work reflecting Melbourne’s dynamic and flourishing print community. Published in an edition of fifteen, the Print Portfolio was a microcosm of the Melbourne Now exhibition itself: a unique constellation of visions and voices existing in multiple and portable form. The NGV is delighted to welcome Print Portfolio into the Collection with the generous support of the Supporters of Prints and Drawings.

Celebrating First Nations artists in Melbourne Now, Supporters of First Nations Art helped acquire a work by Dharug-born artist, Daniel Church as well as a piece by senior Wergaia/Wemba Wemba visual artist Kelly Koumalatsos, who draws on her Aboriginal and Greek heritage to express her political and cultural outlook. In continuing to develop the breadth and depth of the First Nations collection, supporters also assisted with the acquisition of works by Gamilaroi artist Sean Miller; Yuwi, Torres Strait and South Sea Islander artist Dylan Mooney; Ngarigo artist Peter Waples-Crowe; and senior Mayali and Rembarrnga artist Jack Yurrulbbirri Nawiliil.

The NGV’s holdings of International Decorative Arts were strengthened by the acquisition of a lamp designed by the critically acclaimed American sculptor Isamu Noguchi and an American-made Windsor bench, c. 1820. These acquisitions were both made possible by Supporters of Decorative Arts. Supporters of Photography also furthered the NGV’s holdings of works by acclaimed Irish documentary photographer, Richard Mosse with a print from the Sad tropics (Tristes tropiques) series, 2020.

With the assistance of Supporters of Conservation, during the past year the NGV’s Conservation department has been able to work on a number of exciting projects, while the department has also undertaken the tasks of transferring and digitising the time-based media collection from obsolete media formats, and exploring the technical research and extensive scholarship of the artist Rembrandt in preparation for the Rembrandt: True to Life exhibition. The Gallery is also continuing a collaboration with the Los Angeles-based Getty Conservation Institute (GCI), investigating environmentally sustainable initiatives and also providing advice and training to regional galleries in Victoria through the Public Regional Galleries Association of Victoria (PGAV).

The NGV is grateful to all supporters whose continued dedication and involvement with the Gallery has been pivotal for the ongoing development of the NGV Collection, programs and initiatives.

FELTON SOCIETY

In 2022–23, the Felton Society continued to play a crucial role in shaping and elevating the NGV Collection. It is through the ongoing dedication and generosity of our Felton Society members that we are able to maintain Alfred Felton’s legacy and provide an expansive Collection for audiences to enjoy now and into the future.

We warmly thank those who have engaged with our planned giving program throughout 2022–23, consisting of a tailored range of programs including dedicated lectures and events providing valuable insights into major exhibitions, such as Alexander McQueen: Mind, Mythos, Muse and the 2023 Melbourne Winter Masterpieces® exhibition Pierre Bonnard: Designed by India Mahdavi.

It was a pleasure to host our Felton Society benefactors of tomorrow for a special dinner in late 2022 to celebrate their extraordinary levels of confirmed commitment to the Gallery, along with our annual Felton Society Lunches in April 2023, which enabled the NGV to graciously thank the Felton Society community for their wonderful contributions.

We are saddened by the loss of dear friends and family throughout the past year, and the NGV acknowledges the impact of their legacy at the Gallery. We also recognise the bequests that were received during this period, and celebrate the impact they will have on the NGV Collection, including Iris and Peter Barlow Bequest, Estate of Judith Gardiner, Suzette Marie Chapple Bequest, Max Smith Bequest, Warren Clark Bequest, Thomas William Lasham Fund, Kenneth Hadley Estate, Estate of Janette Mary Dunbar, Christine Ashby Bequest, E. & D. Rogowski Foundation, Marie Theresa McVeigh Trust, Elizabeth Alexandra Bequest, and Thomas Rubie Purcell & Olive Esma Purcell Trust Fund.

Thank you again to our Felton Society members, whose legacy and impact on the life of the Gallery will continue to live on through your planned and present giving.

NGVWA

We thank the NGVWA for their remarkable fundraising efforts throughout 2022–23, guided by President Tania Brougham along with her fellow Executive Committee members.

The NGV celebrates the numerous fundraising activities conducted by the NGVWA in 2022– 23, including Garden Day 2022, NGVWA presents ‘An Evening with Angelo Candalepas’, along with the success of the 2023 major fundraising event, NGVWA presents ‘Art of Bloom’.

The NGV also recognises those who generously provided significant support through the NGVWA program, including the Hupert Family Foundation, Minimax, Husk Corporation, Jennifer Lempriere, Maggie Nanut, Vivien Knowles and Graham Knowles, and Mutual Trust.

Finally, we warmly celebrate the NGVWA as Triennial Champions through their remarkable support of Nowhere to Go, 2022, by Shelia Hicks, one of the world’s foremost artists and sculptors working with textiles. Through the NGVWA’s wonderful generosity the NGV will acquire this major sculptural installation, which we look forward to showcasing in the upcoming Triennial 2023 exhibition.
